

Academic Integrity and Online Assessments and Examinations

In his Spring 2021 update, the Provost announced that USC will discontinue the use and support of the Respondus Monitor proctoring tool.

To assist faculty in identifying alternatives, and for those who wish to explore assessment options for their midterms, CET will be offering assessment workshops during the month of February.

CET is also available for individual, department, and school consultations regarding assessment options and course design. Email us to schedule a time.

Online Assessment and Academic Integrity

Online course assessment involves different considerations than assessment in the classroom, including different concerns about academic integrity. This workshop offers considerations when planning and implementing assessments for remote students and strategies for promoting academic integrity. This session may be of particular interest to faculty who had previously used Respondus Monitor.

Offered twice (same content each time)

Tuesday, February 9, 10:00-11:30 am Pacific

<https://usc.zoom.us/j/92682372103>

Tuesday, February 23, 1:00-2:30 pm Pacific

<https://usc.zoom.us/j/92289544009>

Blackboard Tools to Increase Academic Integrity on Exams

Blackboard offers tools and techniques for promoting academic integrity during online exams that use multiple-choice and short-answer questions. Pedagogical approaches leveraging Blackboard will be discussed, followed by step-by-step methods for implementing them in Blackboard.

Offered twice (same content each time)

Thursday, February 11, 1:00-2:30 pm Pacific

<https://usc.zoom.us/j/92831141672>

Thursday, February 25, 10:00-11:30 am Pacific

<https://usc.zoom.us/j/99552300489>

Sessions will be recorded